Says Breathing Was So Difficult She Could Hardly Eat-Relieved By Tanlac.

"I suffered terrible with shortness of breath, which trouble was partic-ularly bad after eating. Often after a meal I would gasp for air and sometimes have to go to bed. I was afraid to leave the house, and when I began taking Tanlac, I had been very sick for a year, but I am in fine hape now."

This remarkable statement was made by Miss Mottle Tribble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Tribble, of 46 Hammett street, Anderson. Har father and mother were present dur-ing the time Miss Tribble was interviewed and approved their daughter's statements.

I would gasp for air while eating," continued Miss Tribble, "and finally get to where I could hardly set. I had no appetite, either, and I suffered a lot from nervousness. Often af-ter eating a bite or two I would have to go to bed so I could get my breath. My case was very bad, and papa had spent a lot of money for medical at tendance for me, but I continued to get worse.

Tornedo With Range of Twenty Miles is Possible.

EXPERTS LIKE THE SOHEME

Chicago Man Says That It Is Practicable-Would Have Calesons Four Miles Apart on Both Coasts-Atmosphere Now Affects Wireless Phone and Torpedoes.

High speed torpedoes with an effective range of more than twenty miles. with submarine structures in constant electrical connection with stations on the shore and warships a short distance out-this, in skeleton, is a program said to be under consideration by our military and navas authorities. There are so many of these devices which to the ordinary man seem impossible that this plan was taken to a prominent Chicago authority on electrical matters with the question:

"Is there anything absurd on the face of this?" He gave a negative answer, seemingir holding it as something theo retically possible and likely capable of practical demonstration.

The plan calls for a line of defense up and down the Atlantic and Pacific coasts in the form of submarine caissons constructed of re-enforced concrete, located a few hundred feet from the shore and connected with land by tunnels, these calssons to be about five miles apart and connected by telephon and wireless with a central point at Washington through subcentral sta-tions located inland. These subcentral stations would be in constant communication with the patrol fleet of bar-tleships and also with the aeroplanes which the Aero Club of America is proposing for, our coast and borders.

Torpede of Greatest Power. The new weapon said to be used in this system and to have been devised by a superintendent of one of the plants of the Crucible Steel company is a torpedo of greater range and power than anything of the sort now in use This weapon would be supplied to the caissons, which would have periscopes and all necessary electrical equipment. The structures would need only three men for operation. It has been estimate ed that 5,000 miles of our coast would call for this kind of protection. This would make the construction of : 000 of these calssons would be equipped with ten torped a s, the cost of which would be $10,000 each. Conceivably this would be a perfect protection for our coast if the system were extended. It is only a question of practicability, and that is to be clemonstrated. When one remembers the many marvelous things that have been done in electrical science and the aris collateral thereto he cannot afford to dismiss such a thing as this as an extravagant creation of the fancy. The world language at Darling Green and his world laughed at Darius Green and his flying machine. The world now be-stows unstinted admiration on the aero-

It is generally found that new de rices which rouse great expectations in their earlier stages disappoint to a certain extent when they come into use. The comments of certain authorities on these modern contrivances are highly instructive. One of them says that the wireless telegraph is extremely subject to changes in wind and weather and that for the present its usefulness is limited. Operators who want to talk over a distance of many hundred miles try and try again without success and then bave to wait until the atmosphe gives them a good chance, gives them a good chance.

Atmosphere Affects Wireless Phone. The wireless relephone is much more sensitive to atmosphere conditions than the wireless telephone will be useful in the case of vessels aftr or a bundred miles from shore. J. 1. quite conceivable that the equipment, can be so changed as to neutralize un crorable conditions in a degree. The telephone has long been used on board vessels as a means of hearing white D going or under the surface of the "rator-for example, the wash against dangerous rocks.

One of the experts was asked as to the recent report that Cerman operators of submarines could direct their torpedoes by hearing instead of aight cane that prescriptly the periscens will become uniccessary. This he said, was inco-calculy correct, but making a good hit would be a chance-in other words, that method has not been perfected to the point of efficiency. The Britian appears to be whether they will start the said had long been able to locate submarines to word. The question suppears to be whether they will start his countrineer any as capable in the line of invention as any class of people in the world and that therefore we are as a second of any or and that therefore was as a second of any or any as capable in the line of invention as any class of people in the world and that therefore was as a second and that therefore was as a second and the import by the colves, against the most expert. It is only a question of such components to the colves and that therefore was as a second and that increase was as a second and that increase was an any colves against the most expert. It is only a question of such ampoort by the colves against the most expert. It is only a constraint as to the periscent was a colves against the most expert.

Hopes every man and woman here will adopt this splendid health habit.

Says a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it washes poisons from system, and makes one feel clean, sweet and fresh.

Wily is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrong; some days really incapacitated by ill-

If we all would practice the drinking of phosphated hot water before breakfast, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we chould see growds of happy, healthy, rosychecked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste it accumulates under the waste it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink overy ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms promaine-like poisons in the bowels which are theoretime the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the asies from the furnace card day before the five will him bright and but, so we emist each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumula-tion of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a te-spoonful of limestone phosphate in it, at a harm-less means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and puri-tying the entire alimentary canal before cutting more food into the stemach.

Millions of people who have their turn at constitution, billious attacks, acid stomach, sick hear aches, rheumatism, lumbago, nervous days and shoepless nights have become real cranks about the morning-inside toth. All quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not east much acrea drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate to Layone its resumeing sweetering and freshering affect upon the system Millions of people who had
